The Forgery—A Vile Journal.

NEW YORK, Nov 22.—The Tribune, regarding promised developments in the Morey letter, says investigation has shown that the forgery was not Garfield's handwriting or signature, but that of Brown his stenographer and amanuensis. The forgers had to get a letter from Garfield before they could do any work. It can be shown ... that such a letter was procured by Hadley, who wrote to Garfield a letter intended to draw out a personal reply from him, but the reply was written by Brown and signed by him. It was not of the slightest consequence, being merely reference of his correspondent to certain printed documents sent by same mail. Yet it was carefully lithographed and published in the Truth about two weeks before the forged letter appeared. The forgery, it is now known, was based upon the same letter of Brown's to which he had attached the name of Garfield by authorization, and it is believed that that letter was the one to Hadley; the signature to the Hadley letter was an imitation of that of Garfield. It is a common practice among persons having a large correspondence to have imitations of their signatures made by their confidential clerks.

There are no new developments in the forgery case. The report that Philp was about to publish his confession doubtless grew out of the vulgar pranks of the Truth newspaper. Two or three days ago it announced that it would publish Philp's confession and tried to stimulate public curiosity. To-day a confession was published and proved to be only a coarse and silly burlesque, and a single specimen of its humor will suffice—"All of which is true, so help me John I. Davenport." Philp is evidently anxious to make terms, but the prosecution are not so anxious about it as he is.

A Senatorial Complication.

The Tribune's Cincinnati special says: Gov Williams' death causes a new senatorial complication in Indiana and threatens to leave the state without a head and prevent the election of a United States senator. The law requires that before either the governor or lieut-governor can take their seat the two houses must be organized. The senate is a tie. While Gray was lieut-governor he had the casting vote as he had two years ago, but the death of Williams leaves the tie to be broken by defection from one side or the other. The democrats have determined as heretofore to organize the senate and will cling to their determination. If each side stands firm the senate cannot organize, and without it neither governor nor lieut governor can take a seat, and at the same time the constitution terminates the office of acting governor on the second Monday of January. If the two sides of the senate lock horns and remain in that attitude the state can be kept in definitely without a governor. A United States senator is to be elected to succeed Senator McDonald. It is claimed a U S senator must be elected at a stated time and if the time goes by the democrats say no legal election can be made by the present legislature and the next one they hope to make democratic.

Bouncing John Kelly.

The Herald prints an address signed by officers of the several democratic clubs here and in Richmond county and Staten Island and by several merchants and bankers declaring they will never again by money, moral influence or votes support the nominees of any state or national convention in which John Kelly is permitted to exercise his former pernicious dictatorship. The document is addressed to Fowler, chairman of the democratic state central committee.

Virginia Congressmen.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov 22.—The board of state canvassers ordered certificates to issue as follows: 1st congressional district Garrison, dem; 2d Dezendorf, rep; 3d, Wise, dem; 4th Jorgensen, rep; 5th Cahill, dem; 6th, Tucker, dem; 7th John Paul, re-adjuster; 8th, Barbour, dem; 9th Abraham Fulkerson, readjuster.

Weather very cold.

A Defaulting Marshal.

The Inter Ocean's Indianapolis special says: Through the failure of the marshal of the eighth district to properly make returns, the plurality of Gen Garfield in the state is cut down to 377. The state law requires that on the third Monday of November the marshal who the governor appoints for each congressional district shall make a return of the vote for that district to the canvassing board who shall declare the result. No return was made to-day from the eighth district, but the result in the state was not affected thereby. It is probable that the marshal for that district, who is a thoroughly reliable man, failed in some way to be notified by the governor of his appointment. The loose and worthless law will now probably be amended. It is a narrow escape for Indiana.

Gov. Williams' Funeral.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov 22.—Many citizens paid the last tribute of respect to Gov. Williams, whose remains lay in state at the court house to-day. A number of complimentary resolutions have been passed by various bodies.

Off for the Capital.

CLEVELAND, Nov 22.—Gen Garfield started for Washington at nine this evening.

Several wrecks reported along shore.

New York Official.

ALBANY, Nov 22.—The state canvassers declare the following results of the state election: Garfield 555,544, Hancock 534,511, Weaver 12,373, Dow 1517.

Michigan Official—53,391.

DETROIT, Nov 22.—Official canvass: Garfield, 185,155; Hancock, 131,301; Weaver, 34,8..; scattering, 322. All the districts republican. Garfield ran ahead of the state ticket 8000 votes.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Rumors about Grant.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Star's Washington special says: Several Grant senators and New York republicans inadvertently admit that Conkling intends presenting Grant's name for Kernan's successor in the senate and also intends having him elected. For this purpose Grant lost his vote in Galena.

An Alibi.

The Tribune's Washington special says a democratic senator reveals the important fact that Garfield was in Ohio the day the Morey letter was dated, and therefore could not have written it. This did not come out in the Morey trial. The records of the house will show this to be true.

Trade Across the Pacific.

CHICAGO, Nov 22.—The Inter Ocean's special from Washington says Secretary Thompson in his forthcoming report will give prominence to American commercial relations on the Pacific. The report will say that Commodore Shufeldt's cruise has been very important in results. He has succeeded in removing most if not all irritation caused by the trouble when the Shenandoah was there some years ago. Efforts will be continued to have the ports of that country open to the world. The Coreans already buy many American goods, procuring them to Japan and obtaining them through Japan. That with the possession of Alaska and treaties with Japan, Sandwich Islands and Samoa our relations are such that if we do not have a fair share of trade across the Pacific it will be our own fault.

The Inter Ocean's Washington special says our government has reason to believe that the letter of Commodore Shufeldt to the king of Corea has not yet been seen by him. The failure to conclude the matter is attributed to the presence of French and English fleets. Negotiations will continue through the mediation of Japan.

The Ohio Senatorship.

Col Moulton, Secretary Sherman's brother in-law, believes Sherman to be almost the unanimous choice of the legislature for senator, as he is of the people of Ohio, also that complications of the Ohio senatorial question have been magnified. There was no law of congress to meet this case and the legislature would therefore definitely settle it.

Bogus Message.

The president pronounces that all reports pretending forecasts of his message are bogus. No points have been confided to any one, and not a word has been written.

The President Elect.

Gen Garfield will be here this week and receive great honors.

The Senate—Fair's Case.

In republican political circles to-day there is quite a buoyant feeling on the subject of party control in the senate after the 4th of next March. Heretofore republican papers have rested mainly on the attitude of Gen Mahone, but to-day it is hinted that a case will be made up against Fair of Nevada, and an objection raised to his admission on the ground of notorious bribery and corruption in the election of members of the legislature. It is claimed there has been a concealment of the fact that large sums of money were spent in the interest of Fair to secure the election of a legislature favorable to him, and that names, dates and amounts can and will be given. It is quite true there has been much talk ... [illegible] ...

FINANCIAL.

Annual Report of the U. S. Treasurer—A Good Showing For the Past Year.

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, Nov 22.—In his annual report ... U S Treasurer Gilfillan ... it appears that the receipts ... compare very favorably with ... previous ... increase from ... internal revenue ... and sale of public lands of $9,811,905, and a decrease in those from ... [illegible] ... the aggregate ... compared with ... previous fiscal year ... by the increase of $ ... in payments on account of ... department, ... of $236,... in the expenditures for interest and the premium ... public debt on ... and ... in war and navy departments. The balance ... the treasury at the close of business June 30, 1880 was $410,... 1880 receipts during the year from all sources amounted to $404,... and ... After deducting the ... and outstanding drafts there was ... at the close of business June 30, 1880 ... the ... balance ... [illegible] ... the greater portion through the ... of this fiscal ... the remainder to actual ... of funds. Fifty eight national banks were organized during the year ... voluntary liquidation ... ness. The amount collected from national banks by the treasurer of the United States for semi-annual duty accruing during the year was $7,591,770 ... total amount ... during ... national bank system is $100,... The report ... gives a statement of liabilities and assets of the treasury for the years 1877, 1878, 1879 and 1880, from which it appears that gold and silver coin and bullion ranged from $116,464,982 in 1877 to $163,969,444 in 1878, to $221,837,... in 1879, and to $214,801,215 in 1880. The decrease of $8,500,000 between '79 and '80 is represented by a reduction in the gold balance of 34,000,000 and an increase of silver coin and bullion on hand. The influences tending to decrease of gold balance have been the scarcity of notes compelling payments of daily balance to New York clearing house in gold coin. There has been but a small amount of United States notes and gold certificates presented for redemption in gold coin. There has been during the year an increase in silver coin of $ ... in standard dollars, and of $78,49.. in fractional silver coin.

Note—Assets including balances due from depository banks have decreased from $107,664,... to $91,41.. in 1878, to $54,9.. in 1879 ... 402,314 in 1880. The steady decrease the treasurer says is due in a great measure to the withdrawal of notes caused by the presentation of clearing house certificates for redemption. The amount of certificates outstanding having been reduced from $... 335,000 in 1879 to $9,976,000 in 1880. Another reason for the smallness of the note balance Gilfillan adds may be found in falling off in the receipts in revenues of the government being now largely paid in coin and silver certificates. From the tables of assets and liabilities of the government for November 1st 1879 and November 1st 1880 it is shown that November 1st, 1879, there were $151,04.. 044, and on November 1st, 1880, there were $141,507,013.61 available for redemption. The amount of gold coin and bullion in the treasury January 1st, the date of resumption of specie payments was $135,382,639 and at this date November 1st it is $140,..5,051, and in addition there have accumulated in the treasury $47,084,439 in standard silver dollars. The redemption of United States notes in gold since resumption of specie payments have aggregated $ ... 190,1.. Since the order of the department of January 1st, 1879 authorizing the receipt of United States notes for custom duties there have been received on that account $142,123,601.

The total coinage of standard silver dollars under the act of February 28, 1878 has been $72,547,790, of this $47,568,100 are in the treasury and in mints and $25,0..,644 are in circulation. The treasurer ... stances banks which reduced and forthwith increased their circulation to the former amount with the avowed object of relieving themselves from the trouble and expense of redeeming their notes through the redemption agency as required, and says it is plain such transactions are not within the spirit of the act of June 20, 1874.

Sportsmen say Ross was out of condition when he rowed Saturday. Laycock has offered to Trickett as consolation half of the prize he won at the international regatta.

Match Off.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—There will be no match between Hanlan and Laycock. Thompson, chief backer for Laycock, promised to endeavor to bring Laycock and Trickett to the United States and Canada next year. The Sportsman, reviewing the results of the regatta says: By blindly following old traditions as to size, shape and make of certain boats suitable for height and weight English scullers can not hope to excel or regain for England any aquatic prestige she has lost.

The report that armed men tarred and feathered Gardner, a landlord, is untrue.

The Agitators.

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—Parnell has issued an appeal to the American people, hoping all lovers of freedom will assist the agitation now going on in Ireland which will secure a radical settlement of the land question.

Dillon, solicitor of Eagan, secretary of the land league, and one person against whom prosecution has been instituted to-day handed the crown officer an affidavit sworn to by Eagan, asking for an attachment against the Evening Mail for publishing articles calculated to prejudice the trials of the traversers.

A Sectarian Quarrel.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—In resumption of the discussion of the anti Semitic move ... in the lower house of the Prussian diet ... day Bachem ... [illegible] ... accused the Jews of acquiring wealth by disgraceful means.

Richter retorted and pointed out that stock jobbing was carried on by Christians belonging to high circles.

Rev Stœcker, court chaplain, who is one of the principal originators of the movement, said the agitation was an economic one, and repeated Fachem's accusations. He declared that the object of the petition was to keep Jews from ... authority.

Herr Lowe, progressist Jew, refuted Herr Stœcker's arguments and declared that some of the statistics were wholly inaccurate.

Herr Reckert, liberal, contended it was a breach of the constitution to deny that the Jews were Germans.

Herr Virchow insults the attacks made upon those who protested against anti Jewish agitation.

The discussion lasted 27 hours and then closed without a vote. The emperor followed the debate with great interest.

BERLIN, Nov 22.—The Jewish question is not so important or serious as has been represented and it will probably be cast to the winds in a few weeks.

Mine on Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov 22.—A Virginia City dispatch says the Imperial is on fire on the 1850 foot level ... broke out ... between the time of changing of shifts this morning. A number of men were in the works at this point. Five who were below have been taken out. The men are bulkheading to stay the fire. At one time it was under partial control, but got under way again.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov 22.—The fire in the Imperial mine has been bulkheaded, water got down and the fire is now under control and dying out. The damage cannot be estimated till the drift can be opened again but cannot be heavy.

The fire in the Imperial burned the winze on 2050 to 2185 level, but much of the drift burned. The unused winze from the 1900 to 2050 is possibly burned too. No danger of further spread.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Law in Regard to the Selection of School Lands by the State, as Interpreted by the Secretary of the Interior.

(SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.)

WASHINGTON, Nov 22.—The secretary of the interior to-day rendered a decision of wide application and large importance in the matter of the adjustment of the California school land grant as regards indemnity selections certified prior to March 1, 1877. In this decision Secretary Schurz holds—

That only the defective or invalid selections made in lieu of actual losses of deficiencies and selections made in lieu of the 16th or 36th sections alleged by the state at the time of selection to be lost in Mexican grants but which since March 1, 1877, have been or may hereafter be found upon the final surveys of such grants or by approved public surveys not to be so lost to the state are confirmed by the act of March 1, 1877, commonly known in California as the Booth bill.

That no more than one section, the first one, is confirmed in lieu of the designated loss or deficiency.

That no selection is confirmed which was made in lieu of a 16th or 36th section shown by the survey at the time of selection to be taken in place of or in lieu of a 16th or 36th section in which by the final survey of a Mexican grant and approved by public surveys was ascertained prior to March, 1877, not to be lost to the state, but the state in such cases taking the 16th or 36th section and the United States the selected land, to be disposed of to a purchaser of the state or to any one state purchaser claims it, then to be disposed of as other public lands.

The secretary holds that in no case can the state take the 16th and 36th sections and lands selected in lieu thereof, hence that unless the right of the section in lieu of which other lands have been illegally selected and certified, reverts to the United States under said act which cannot be the case where the lieu land and both sections were ascertained to be in the place by surveys adjusted prior to March 1, 1877. The act does not confirm and the selected land is liable to disposal under the provisions to the 2d section of the act as are all other selected lands, the selection of which shall be found to fail and not to be confirmed by said act.

A BACK-ACTION BOOM.

The Excitement in Grain and Provisions at Chicago—Organizations and Firms Pushed to the Wall.

(SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.)

CHICAGO, Nov 22.—The public pride ... in the largest institution of the kind in Chicago was ... before 10 o'clock to day, having been badly crippled by the recent heavy advance in grain provisions, cotton and stocks, all of which rose so fast to-day that there was a regular jam of bull operators at the counters. This rise in all kinds of speculative articles has caught most of the bucket shops and several have suspended. The Metropolitan also failed this morning. D. D. Loring, president of the Chicago produce exchange says the concern has paid out over a quarter of a million dollars within ten days. It is designed to settle and continue business. The liabilities are not yet known, probably over $150,000.

Owing to its large country business the firm cannot give a definite statement of its liabilities but they are generally set down as from a hundred to a hundred and fifty thousand, with assets from fifty to seventy five thousand. The firm was more substantial than other bucket shops and has made money pretty steadily and has been always met its losses promptly. Several moneyed men are on the list with it and it has a charter from ... considerable value for which it is probable the ... business will be resumed shortly. The failure of Dorey last week cost them $27,000 in cash and ... heavy draft upon them. Last week nearly $50,000 per day was paid out, all trades with a very few exceptions being on the long side and the continuous and marked advance was too much for their resources ... has been doing three fourths of ... business ...

Eugene City proposes to vote a two-mill tax to sustain her public schools. Her people have already paid $12,000 for a first-class school building, and the old board of directors in their anxiety to maintain the honor and reputation of the school, left the district last spring near $2000 in debt to teachers for their wages. In order to cover this and meet their obligations the new board was obliged to use over $1000 of the public money that was properly due to the present year to meet the indebtedness. Hence the necessity of a tax sufficient to place the district on easy financial footing.

GRANDE RONDE VALLEY.

One of the Most Highly Favored Sections of Eastern Oregon.

LA GRANDE, Or., Nov 16, 1880

The residents of this valley are jubilant over the prospects of an early connection by rail with the railway system of the Columbia, besides a location upon one of the main highways or trunk lines extending east, with its attendant advantages, such as a development of not only their agricultural but of the mineral wealth of this section, and consequent increased home demand for many of their productions. The railroad engineers have nearly finished locating the road from Meacham's to LaGrande, where they will establish depot grounds. Upon the other side of the Blue Mountains the road is quite probably by this time located to the Umatilla river. The maximum grade for a distance of ten miles upon either side of the summit is 105 feet to the mile, while the balance of the grade will not exceed 40 feet. There will be some tunneling, among which there are two of 300 feet each and one of 400 feet at no considerable distance apart, while the summit cut of 800 feet is 7 feet in depth. As a mountain road the engineers represent it as a comparatively easy and economical one to construct. The general understanding that it is the intention of the company to extend the road as far east as the Grand Ronde within one year from this time, causes a renewal of interest concerning the resources and capabilities of this beautiful valley, and some of its more intimately connected agricultural and mineral tracts. Hence a brief description of some of the more salient features of this section will admit of repetition.

The valley of the Grand Ronde is of a nearly semicircular form. Its length from north to south is 30 miles with an average width of 15 miles, covering an area of 450 square miles, or nearly 290,000 acres, of what may be justly termed the finest farming lands of the great valley of the Columbia. It is nearly 3000 feet above the sea level, consequently a somewhat lower general average of temperature prevails and the winter season is somewhat longer than immediately upon the Columbia, which fact however is more than compensated for by its invigorating and health giving climate, purity and water, while timber for fuel as well as building purposes is abundant and cheap, the hills which almost immediately surround the valley in nearly all directions being covered with the best of fir, pine, tamarack and spruce. The valley is finely watered from the nearly surrounding mountain watersheds from which flow numerous streams, the principal one being the Grand Ronde river, which has its source in the Blue mountains to the west of the valley, and flows easterly through the center and nearly across the valley, then forming nearly a right angle it flows north, finally leaving from the northeast side of the valley. Although a rapid stream in the mountains it is very slow and tortuous in its course in the valley, and in the spring overflows a large tract of the finest natural meadow lands. Catherine creek, which enters the valley from the eastern side, flowing in a north westerly direction into the Grand Ronde, along its entire length of twelve miles in the valley also overflows large tracts of meadow lands. These lands are ... [illegible] ... during the spring and the ... [illegible] ... in their growth ... [illegible]

The prompt and liberal course taken by Italy in the matter of the projected monument to Victor Emanuel stands out in strong contrast to the sluggish and niggardly action of the United States touching the Washington monument at the national capital. Poor and tax-ridden as Italy is, she has voted no less a sum than $1,800,000 for the purpose, and offers three prizes, of $10,000, $6000 and $4000 respectively, for the best three models which may be sent in for the proposed structure, these three to remain the property of the state. The right to compete for the prize is thrown open to sculptors of all nations.

Among the curious and interesting industrial facts brought to light during the recent census inquiries, not the least is the fact that the recently introduced art of diamond cutting has been so admirably developed in New York that diamonds cut in Amsterdam are now sent to that city for recutting. Hitherto Amsterdam has monopolized the work of diamond cutting; and the aim there has been to remove in cutting, the least possible weight of the gem. The American is to cut mathematically, according to recognized laws of light so as to secure the utmost brilliancy for the finished stone. The greater loss in weight, as compared with the Amsterdam cutting is thus more than made good by the superior brilliancy of the product. The average increase of value given to diamonds by the New York cutting is $5000 for each person employed for 12 months, also New York dealers are receiving the best Amsterdam-cut gems from abroad, to be recut here and returned.

HOTEL BRIDES.

Washington City as a Matrimonial Center.

Washington Correspondence of Troy Times.

Washington is now more than ordinarily full of life. Business at all the leading hotels is fifty per cent better than it has averaged in corresponding months of former years and a rush is expected all winter long, winding up with a perfect jam at inauguration time. It would be difficult to name the errands that bring the American citizen to the capital, but matrimony takes the lead, just now. The influx of October brides and grooms is simply tremendous. Eighteen of these gay, guiltless pairs were housed at the Ebbitt at once last week, and the dining room is still thick with their successors. Just think what loads of bliss pass in review before your correspondent daily. I have a penchant for late breakfasts, so, by a surprising coincidence, have these sheepish young pilgrims on their ... This morning I breakfasted at a table with three sets of them, and between you and me, I needed no maple syrup on my pancakes. Sweetness was a drug in the market. One of the brides sailed in leaning fondly on the arm of her beloved. A pretty little creature opposite me with mischievous eyes and pouting rosebud lip coquettishly wearing a big poke bonnet, merrily whispered to her Alonzo "See there" another pair. "I wonder if all the world is getting married." Another young husband was indoctrinating his Dulcinea in the political situation while waiting for their breakfast to come in. Her remarks in reply reminded me of Mrs Spoopendyke, but to him while the glamor lasts she is no doubt the "wisest, discreetest, best" of women. A whole column might be written about these young doves just mated, and trying their wings together. "All the world loves a lover," and even a prosaic femme sole with a turn for literature and politics may have a soft spot in her heart for these happy, unsophisticated voyagers. I am sorry Mrs Hayes is not here to beam on them, all and singly, when they go to explore the White House. She would say something particularly nice to each one of them, and give every bride a little regulation bouquet with a white camel... in the center—she always does. She keeps a big basket full of them on purpose, and every bride goes away handling these flowers with religious care, and thinking herself favored above the common lot.

THE SILVER QUESTION AGAIN

T[illegible] question is likely [illegible] brought before congress again. Views on the subject are wil[illegible] and irreconcilable. One side wants a demand that coinage of legal tender silver dollars shall be at once and entirely discontinued. On the other there is to be an effort to authorize unlimited coinage of silver dollars on private account. It is not probable that a bill to secure either object will pass, though there may be danger of the latter. Among men of recognized judgment and authority on financial economy there is common agreement that early repeal of the silver law is necessary to give soundness and stability to the currency. For there can be no doubt that if we continue to coin legal tender silver at the rate of the last two years we shall in time come to an exclusive silver basis. But congress is not ready to listen yet to this truth. Members who may understand it well enough are afraid of it because their constituents wish to cling to silver as a form of cheap money under the notion that somehow it would be against the public interests and would play into the hands of an imaginary "gold clique" to have a currency established and maintained on a gold basis. Hence at the present time a bill authorizing unlimited coinage of silver on private account is likely to have more strength than a bill to repeal the existing silver dollar law. For besides the inclination to cheapen the currency which is always strong there would be millions in such a bill for bonanza mine owners and holders of silver bullion. Such a bill could hardly become a law over the presidential veto which would surely be interposed. But it is among the possibilities that it may pass the two houses. Fully one-half the representatives and one-third of the senators regard themselves as without a political future except upon new "issues" to be raised—and for them the free coinage silver issue and kindred humbugs would do well enough. No one of intelligence and judgment supposes that an unlimited amount of silver coined at rates nominally above its bullion value by ten or twelve per cent, can be maintained at par with gold. It will break so soon as the gold in circulation is overweighted by the silver and this will happen when the mint shall have turned out say fifty or eighty millions more in legal tender silver. This silver question will have to be discussed in congress and out of it. The fact ought to be pressed home that our silver dollar in the markets of the world is intrinsically less valuable by ten per cent than the gold dollar. And it should be impressed upon all, and particularly upon our working classes, that they have nothing to gain by encouraging a policy which would give us a silver circulation, or a circulation based on silver, to the total exclusion of the more valuable metal. Except by limiting the coinage of silver it is impossible to maintain a double standard, with ten per cent difference in the relative or proportionate value of the metals composing our coinage. At the present stage of the discussion, perhaps as sound a measure as any would be to raise a commission of experts to inquire as to whether or not the relative value of the two metals in the markets of the world will probably continue, and then either add to the silver dollar or scale the gold dollar down to the silver value.

SECRETARY SHERMAN'S VIEWS

On the 1st May next there will become due and redeemable at the option of the government, five per cent. bonds to the amount of $508,440,350. And on the 30th June following $164,331,350 of six per cent bonds will mature. It is not doubted that these may be refunded at a lower rate of interest. It is announced that Secretary Sherman in his forthcoming report will recommend a bill authorizing a new issue of bonds bearing three and a half per cent. A year ago he opposed a proposition to offer a bond bearing this low rate of interest, on the ground that such a bond could not then be sold. Now the situation is changed. Four per cents are selling at 112 nearly, and money can be had at easy rates. Hence Secretary Sherman now believes that the government could readily place three and a half per cent bonds, and hence he will recommend in his report that bonds bearing this rate of interest, to run for thirty-three years, be authorized for refunding purposes. It is understood that he will also recommend the issue of certificates in sums as small as ten dollars, in order to make the loan a popular one. Another feature of the forthcoming report will be a statement of the secretary's views on the silver question. It is known that he has always been opposed to the issue of legal tender silver in unlimited amounts; but he has been overruled by congress. He will show that the total coinage of these dollars at the rate prescribed by law of not less than two millions a month, now amounts to over seventy-two millions, and will urge that the coinage of these dollars ought now to be stopped at once. He will also repeat his recommendation of last year that the legal tender quality of government notes be removed by law and that they simply retain their promissory character. [illegible] maintains that the legal tender quality is [illegible] and only justified by necessity [illegible] war, and now that this [illegible]ger exists, the legal tender fic[illegible] abandoned.

[illegible] announcement concerning Secre[illegible] is that he will not go into Presi[illegible]'s cabinet. It is known that he [illegible] to re-enter the senate. By elect[illegible] would do herself great honor and the country great benefits, since Mr [illegible] head and shoulders above all other [illegible] in his state, and is to-day one of the [illegible] men of the nation. His great ability [illegible]g experience in the house and senate [illegible]ur years as secretary of the treasury in [illegible] most important period of our financial his[illegible] commend him especially. The services [illegible]uch a man ought not to be lost to the na[illegible] if he is willing to return to the United States senate. The treasury has now been [illegible]ught by his skill to such condition that [illegible]om this time forward it will pretty easily run [illegible]self.

A recent report of the bureau of statistics shows that our merchant marine consists of 25,211 vessels, aggregating 4,169,600 tons. Of this number 17,042 are sailing, 4569 are steam, 1206 are canal boats and 2394 are barges. With respect to location they are distributed as follows: The Atlantic and gulf coasts have 14,763 sailing vessels, aggregating 1,367,028 tons; 2162 steam vessels, 615,039 tons, 658 canal boats 58,363 tons; 764 barges 159,041 tons. The Pacific coast has 807 sailing vessels 148,7[illegible]2 tons, 308 steam 107,040 tons, 87 barges 14,590 tons. The northern lakes have 1473 sailing 307,077 tons 896 steam 209,298 tons 549 canal boats 44,774 tons 170 barges 42,226 tons. The western rivers have 1203 steam 250,798 tons, 1373 barges 251,013 tons.

The manner in which the Morey forgery was executed is now very well understood. The pretended letter was written in imitation of the handwriting of General Garfield's confidential clerk supposing it to be the handwriting of Garfield himself. A dispatch to-day explains this part of the business. It remains now to fix definitely upon the persons who did it. It is not doubted who paid them for the work.

Edward Atkinson the well known economist of Boston writes as the fruit of his observation in the south that there is growing up in those states a middle class composed of small farmers both white and black, laborers, small tradesmen and others who with the leaders in manufactures, business and railways are becoming dissatisfied with the tax laws imposed upon them by the bourbon political leaders.

STILL ANOTHER VIEW

Some three or four months ago Mr Richard Grant White who is better known as a writer on philology and literary subjects than [illegible] on political science published in the New York [illegible] a series of articles prepared as an [illegible] against the common school system of the country. [illegible] laid the art[illegible] examined [illegible] further then [illegible] some respects his criticisms well accord with [illegible] views entertained by Mr White will not be approved by more than a few dispassionate critics. Still [illegible] certain that several of his deductions are much nearer to the truth than the optimistic praises that are chanted by the callow persons who figure at the annual celebrations in the various schools or the typical politicians who rant about the glory of the free school system without caring a fig whether it is good or bad. [illegible] that they have done the schools great injury. Between them it has come to pass that a [illegible]less and vicious veneering of the young mind has largely superseded a plain useful discipline of the faculties, and those who venture to express disapprobation of this in the hope that improvement may follow without are assailed as enemies of the schools. Every noisy pretentious blockhead who declares himself in favor of what is called higher education is applauded. The man who does not like shams and shows that this so-called higher education is a sham is held to be either the most dangerous of conspirators, a Jesuit in disguise, or a Bourbon of some sort far behind the age. Whatever may be thought of Mr White's deductions it is to his credit that he had the courage to set them forth in unambiguous English. After disposing of the testimony of the average politician, the average teacher and the average parson as of little value because of the self interest or the narrow prejudice which affects them he says:

> The proof of the pudding is in the eating: the proof of the value of our public school system is in the quality of the young men and the young women that it produces. There will be but one answer from those who are qualified to speak upon it, unless my observation and information are both very erroneous, and the answer will be against the usefulness of our public schools in fitting their pupils for the duties and business of life.

Following this up Mr White maintains that the effect of the public schools upon girls is to unfit them for many of the duties of womanhood, to indispose them to domestic cares, to beget a slipshod habit of mind as well as of body, and to substitute for the honorable spirit of industry, which is needed in every household, a fondness for literature of the dime novel stamp, a flightiness that leads to evils which need not be minutely described, and a passion for costly attire. Now we think Mr White is here denouncing an influence which springs from society itself even more than from the public schools. American society at the present time is very pronouncedly opposed to hard work. Girls are trained at home to look with a certain contempt upon the industrious women who do the domestic work of their own households. To bang a piano and make some frightful image with water colors on a shell are held to be pre-eminently ladylike, while to be caught washing a husband's or father's linen, cooking a beef steak, or washing the dishes, is to be cut off from polite society. For this the schools are not to blame. They but reflect the evil. The effect of the schools upon boys may be less open to discussion. This is the way Mr White states it:

> Nor are the boys who come from our public schools much more admirable products of the system. A small number of them are of that human order which is born for intellectual labor, and is impelled to it by a restless inward force; some, of course many more, are of moderate mental ability, of sober, reserved and almost timid dispositions, and these profit in a certain degree by their education although it is doubtful whether the benefit resulting to themselves or to society justifies the means and the expenditure by which it is attained. But as to the large majority of the boys who come from our public schools ask those who employ them. Ask the master mechanic, whose memory goes back to a time when apprentices came only with the instruction and the training received at home or in a dame school. The answer, unless I am much in error, is sure to be that, although the public school boy may be more glib of tongue and know superficially a little about geography and history of which his predecessor was ignorant, he is generally inferior in all that makes a good apprentice, a good workman, a thrifty, substantial, respectable man. He is less respectful, less docile, less in earnest about his work and, on the whole, inferior in principle, in faithfulness and even in manners to the boy who had been taught merely to read and to write, to fear God and to honor his father and his mother.

Everyone, we think, must admit that there is much truth in this, though there is often a natural reluctance to tell it. Through the joint influence of our social and educational system multitudes set their faces towards living by their wits, with fancy coats on their backs, instead of going to the blacksmith's shop, the shoemaker's stool, the carpenter's bench and the machine shop. The sons of the butcher, the baker and the weaver are taught to regard the occupations of their honest and perhaps humble parents as low and they live upon them as idlers rather than assist them by taking up their callings. As in the case of the girls it would be a mistake however, to charge this wholly against the public schools. Society, as now organized, is largely responsible for it and even parents encourage it in the case of their own children. But it seems to us there can be no doubt that the influence of the schools tends all the time to further propagation of these errors.

It is apparent that all this must have an increasing effect upon our politics, since our political system must necessarily be corrupted by whatever begets a dislike of plain honest labor. It is impossible to throw discredit upon hard work without stimulating the crop of [illegible] who form the body-guard of corrupt politicians in every part of the country. While it should not be asserted that the evil is due wholly or mainly to the public schools, yet there will hardly be many who stop to think about it who will not reach the conclusion very soon that the public school system does tend to throw discredit upon hard work by filling too many with the idea that they may live without it and that it is more genteel to live without it. Of course the schools do not directly teach this. And the teachers themselves would resent it. But obvious causes produce a tendency that way, which is both natural and inevitable. The way to correct it is to reform the social forces which lie behind the schools.

The Boston Herald, an independent paper, rebukes the democratic leaders and organs that continue to blunder since the election as badly as before it, and tells them for one thing that the party making the revolutionary attempt to overturn the vote of New York would be overwhelmed by popular indignation.

PATRONIZE
HOME INDUSTRIES!
PIONEER
White Lead.
REASONS WHY IT SHOULD BE PREFERRED TO ALL OTHERS.
First—It is STRICTLY PURE. It is WHITER, is FINER GROUND, is FRESH, has BETTER COVERING POWER, is MORE DURABLE and is LOWER PRICED than any foreign or imported brands.
The IMPORTED LEADS are OLD, are DRY and HARD, COVERED WITH SKINS, The OIL IS SOAKED INTO THE WOOD, and a very LARGE QUANTITY OF OIL, which is HIGHER COST than the lead, MUST BE ADDED to make them fit for use, and thus making its cost, at even market prices, at least 10 per cent. more than the PIONEER.
Second—The PIONEER LEAD is strictly a HOME MANUFACTURE. EVERY DOLLAR SPENT IN ITS MANUFACTURE IS DISTRIBUTED ON THIS COAST to the MINERS, SMELTERS and REFINERS, MECHANICS, FARMERS AND LABORERS.
The MEAD ORE is mined on this coast.
The PIG LEAD is smelted and refined on this coast.
The POTS, MACHINERY and other appliances are made on this coast.
The MECHANICS and LABORERS are our own population.
The SEED from which the OIL is extracted is GROWN on this coast.
The OIL is MANUFACTURED on this coast by the PACIFIC OIL WORKS, and of a quality superior to any made elsewhere. GUARANTEED PURE and FREE from ADULTERATION with cotton seed, mustard seed and Fish Oil, SO COMMON with ALL THE EASTERN OILS IMPORTED.
The manufacture of the PIONEER WHITE LEAD EMPLOYS constantly ONE HUNDRED MEN.
The manufacture of the Oil by the PACIFIC OIL WORKS EMPLOYS constantly FIFTY MEN.
THE MINING, SMELTING, REFINING, FOUNDRIES, MACHINE & IRON WORKS, POTTERIES, FARMERS and other dependencies, EMPLOY, in addition, an ARMY OF MEN, all CONSUMERS, contributing to each other's welfare.
The FOREIGN or IMPORTED BRANDS of Lead and Oil CONTRIBUTE NOTHING to the WELFARE or PROSPERITY of THIS COMMUNITY; on the contrary, the PATRONAGE OF THEM results in the RETIREMENT from the State of YOUR CAPITAL and DEPRIVES THE MANY classes aforementioned of SUPPORT.
Every dollar spent for HOME MANUFACTURES, and one so essentially a home manufacture as the PIONEER WHITE LEAD, ADDS to the DEVELOPMENT and WEALTH of the COAST, and is a PUBLIC GOOD.

AMUSEMENTS.

"BOCCACCIO."—The music of "Boccaccio" is a stream of deep music suited more to grand than to comic opera. It abounds in currents, eddies and ripples of Strauss-like waltzes, and several stirring marches. The airs are hardly so "catching" as those in the "Chimes of Normandy," but from a musical point of view far superior. There is nothing particularly new in the score. Suppe seems to have adopted the more pleasing strains of older composers, but his arrangement of them is admirable. The libretto has a few sparkles of wit, and there are several very funny scenes—all within the bounds of propriety. Miss Melville during the short engagement here appeared before to such good advantage as in the title role—a jolly, fun loving, careless author. She was in excellent voice, her acting was charming and her costumes rich. Miss Plaisted, who has earned and won much admiration here, was unusually attractive as "Fiametta." They sang two duets both heartily encored. The first, "Perfume fills the air," a delicate composition reminding one unconsciously of the last notes of "The Last Rose of Summer," was a splendid rendition. Miss Plaisted gave voice to a clear soprano and Miss Melville to a rich mezzo-soprano, approaching at times clear contralto, and the melodies blended in gentle flow. The second, an Italian gem, "Mir Bella Florentine," was a delightful bit of pathos. Misses Plaisted, Gerrish and Lowe in a lively trio, "He will soon be here," received an encore. The choruses were well balanced, cheerful and stirring, given with greater precision than in the former operas. Every seat in the theater was filled and the audience was generous in its applause. "Boccaccio" will be repeated to-night.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

The following order of services will be observed at Trinity Episcopal church, Thursday forenoon. Services will commence at 11 o'clock:

Processional Hymn, 405, Hanover; special chant for Thanksgiving.

Te Deum in E flat	Mercadante.
Benedictus in A flat	Mercadante.
Introit Anthem, "Thanks be to God,"	Mendelssohn.
Kyrie Elleson	Kinross.
Gloria Tibi	Kinross.
Offertoire (Duo), "Guide Me, Oh Thou Great Jehovah"	Flotow.
Hymn, 300	St. George.
Processional, "Hallelujah"	Handel.

The choir will be considerably enlarged for this occasion, and will consist of the following ladies and gentlemen:

Sopranos—Mrs. J. M. ten Bosch, Mrs. G. B. Withington, Mrs. Lowndsdale, Mrs. James Budd, Miss Cora Packard, Miss Georgie Cooper, Miss Catharine Stewart, Miss Hattie Foster, Miss Ellen Chamberlain.

Altos—Mrs. W. H. Kinross, Mrs. John A. Child, Mrs. D. Goodsell, Miss Nellie Waltz, Miss Jessie Lowe.

Tenors—Messrs. A. A. Franklin, J. C. Williams, G. E. Withington, W. J. Burns, J. B. Wyatt, James Reid, J. F. Johnson, J. Van Beurden.

Basses—Messrs. W. H. Kinross, M. O. Lownsdale, W. Bronker, Geo. Webb, T. B. Trevett, E. Atkinson, J. F. Ramsdell.

Mr. Alonzo Hatch, the tenor of the Emelie Melville opera company, has kindly volunteered his services, and will sing in the duet for the offertory with Mr. Kinross, "Guide me, oh, thou Great Jehovah." Mr. Coursen will also act as accompanist, and with Mr. Lawrence at the organ the service cannot fail to be impressive.

THE LADIES' FAIR.

Considering the fact that it was the opening night of the Ladies' Catholic Fair the attendance at Leonard's hall was quite large last evening, and gave a most encouraging assurance of what might reasonably be expected during the coming week.

The commodious hall was very tastily decorated with evergreens and the tables were neatly arranged about the room, and with the numerous and handsome articles displayed, presented a sight quite pleasing to the eye. A number of handsome young ladies, armed with book and pencil, were circulating about the hall soliciting chances for the numerous articles. Nor were their appeals in vain, for the gentle importunity of "Will you please take a chance, sir; just one," won almost every time. Who could resist the feminine plea made in behalf of such a deserving cause? We are gratified to note that the receipts for the evening were substantial to a very encouraging degree. The following ladies preside over the tables:

Table No. 1.—Mrs. Zan, Mrs. D. Kelly.
No. 2—Mrs. Brady, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Rogers.
No. 3—Mrs. C. J. Malarkey, Miss Fannie Raleigh.
No. 4—Managed by the company.
Candy stand—Linda Manciet, Miss Nellie Herman.
Refreshment table—Mrs. Brown, Miss Cline.
Postoffice—Miss McCarthy, Miss Sarah Richardson, Miss Emma Campion.
Lottery table—Miss Nyhan, Miss Butler.
Grab bag—Miss Bentgen.

Hot dinners will be served up each day at 12 o'clock. On Thanksgiving a splendid dinner will be served. Music will be in attendance at the hall every evening.

To the Honorable Common Council—Gentlemen: I herewith return to you ordinance No. —, entitled "An ordinance authorizing a contract for boarding city prisoners" without my approval, for the following reasons:

All materials or supplies furnished the city should be advertised for and let to the best advantage to the city. In this case no proposals have been advertised and no competition admitted to board the prisoners confined in the city prison, which should be done before a contract is entered into by the city. In my opinion there is no sufficient reason why this should not be done in this case. Very respectfully submitted, D. P. THOMPSON, Mayor.

The veto was sustained by a vote of 8 to 1.

FROM OREGONIAN RAILWAY COMPANY.

The following communication was received from the Oregonian Railway Company, limited, and referred to the committee on streets:

To the Honorable Common Council—The Oregonian Railway Company, limited, respectfully intimates that it has located its line of road up to the northwest corner of block 100 and is now constructing its main line of railway from Dayton and Yamhill Co. to the city of Portland and has located its depot, side tracks and water station upon what is known commonly as the public levee. That its bridge across the Willamette river is now being constructed to connect its east and west side divisions, and that the steel rails necessary to lay its main line to and from Portland are now lying at Portland wharfs; that under section 25 of the general incorporation act of 1862, said railway company is entitled to demand and now respectfully requests from the local authorities of the city of Portland authority to lay and use its railway track from the northwest corner of block No. 103 on Mill and Water streets to its depot grounds side tracks and water station, located on said public levee as aforesaid.

PUSHING FORWARD.

The O. R. & N. Co. Commence Running Trains to Blalock's, and Transfer there to Umatilla—Stage Line, Etc.

Sunday morning the first passenger train of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company went over the road from Celilo to Blalock's, 33 miles east of the former station. Yesterday morning trains began running regularly to Blalock's where close connections are made with steamers for Umatilla. The hull of the old steamer Teaser has been utilized as a wharf boat, and the steamer Northwest as a waiting room. Both are moored near the present terminus of the railroad, and give ample accommodation for freight and passengers.

The stages of the Northwestern Stage Co. will hereafter arrive at and depart from Blalock's, instead of the Dalles. A large stable is in course of erection for the accommodation of stock. The O. R. & N. Co. announce this morning the establishment of the following new stations on their line: Des Chutes, Grant's, John Day's, Quinn's, and Blalock's.

The track from a point opposite Ainsworth to Wallula will be completed to-morrow at noon. The Northern Pacific railroad has ordered a telegraph line from Wallula to Ainsworth, which will be opened within a few days. The announcement that freight will be received in this city for the Northern Pacific to the present terminus of the track on the Pend d'Oreille division will probably be made before the end of this month.

"GRAN'MA AL'US DOES."

I wants to mend my wagon,
And has to have some nails;
Jus' two, free will be plenty,
We're going to haul our rails.
The splendidest cob fences
We're makin' ever was!
I wis' you'd help us find 'em,
Gran'ma al'us does.

My horse's name is Betsey;
She jumped and broke her head,
I put her in the stable
And fed her milk and bread.
The stable's in the parlor;
We didn't make no muss.
I wish you'd let it stay there,
Gran'ma al'us does.

I's going to the cornfield
To ride on Charlie's plow;
I spect he'd like to have me—
I wants to go right now.
Oh, won't I gee up awful,
And whoa like Charlie whoas;
I wis' you wouldn't bozzer,
Gran'ma never does.

I wants some bread and butter,
I's hungry worstest kind;
But Taddie mustn't have none,
'Cause she wouldn't mind;
Put plenty sugar on it,
Tell you what, I knows
It's right to put on sugar,
Gran'ma al'us does.

THE AMERICAN VS. THE AUSTRALIAN MERINO FLEECE.

[From the Sacramento Record-Union.]

Some years ago there were some Merino sheep sent from Vermont over to the world's fair at Hamburg, and they surprised the sheepmen of the old world for their great size of carcass and the fine quality and heavy weight of fleece. Some of the specimens sent over took first prizes in three classes. From that time to this America has been looked upon as an important country for sheep husbandry, and we have given to the Merino sheep a new appellation—the American Merino—in contradistinction to the French and Spanish Merino. Australia, however, has always claimed to be a little ahead of the United States, or at least to be fully equal to this country in the production of good sheep and good wool. However, even the Australians are learning that to keep up their flocks to the highest standard, in carcass and fleece, they will have to come to America for an infusion of new and more vigorous blood, as the following facts made public by W. G. Markham, secretary of the National Wool Growers' Association will show. Some time since Mr. Markham received from John L. Curry, one of the most prominent of Australian sheep breeders, two entire fleeces which had been taken, he said, from his best sheep, and sent to this country to show what Australia can do in the production of fine wool. Upon the receipt of these fleeces Mr. Markham, under the direction of the national association selected two American fleeces, and sent the four to a wool scouring and grading establishment in Boston, with directions that each fleece be scoured and graded, and that the result be kept with great care. The scourers were given no information as to the object of the trial, or as to where the fleeces came from. All were treated alike, and after they were scoured were appraised by competent judges. The American fleeces produced 8¾ pounds, while the Australian produced but 4½ pounds of cleansed wool. The American wool was valued at $8 12, while the Australian was valued at $4 30. These facts being published, have attracted the attention of the Australian sheepowners, and they, like sensible business men, are acting on it. As a consequence American-bred merinos are coming into demand for the Australian market. Among the Australian breeders who have ordered American sheep is Mr. Thomas McFarland of Melbourne. Hearing of the above-mentioned comparisons he came to this country and ascertained the statement to be true, and that the American fleeces were not exceptional, and that the American Merino combined the most desirable characteristics of heavy carcass and large yield of fleece. He ordered two rams and two ewes to be shipped to Melbourne for his sheep farms.

The Great Prairies of South America.

From the London Times.

The provinces of Buenos Ayres and Montevideo are as yet far from being overcrowded; but an immigrant will not fare worse for going further for elbow room, provided he be as careful to insure free and easy communication as a good general would be anxious to keep within reach of his base of operations. There are rivers in this region navigable by steam for thousands of miles; and the railways, which seemed to have been providentially invented to serve the purposes of American colonization are already reaching the borders of the Grand Chaco, the Grand Pampa, Patagonia and other great deserts where land is to be had for the mere asking, and where the red Indian has ceased to be the bugbear he was, and cannot be made to face a breech loading rifle.

The land is, in the main, an immense flat, no doubt very large tracts of alluvial soil, without a tree or a pebble; part of it mere swamps or salt wilderness. But even these thousand miles of unbroken level are not without a peculiar beauty of their own; their boundless horizon and awful solitude, the freshness and purity of the atmosphere, and the keen enjoyment of unlimited freedom. Nor, apart from intercourse with his fellow men, is a man here crushed by the sense of utter forlornness, for nothing is more striking than the teeming life of the animal kingdom in the pampas—the abundance of game, the storks and herons, the [illegible] hawks, the [illegible] of the wild turkeys and flocks of ostriches, to say nothing of the ubiquitous pteroptero and chattering little cardinal; a multitude and variety of fowls and [illegible] to me as well as numberless—the gayety of whose plumage and fur and the strangeness and wildness of whose screeches and howls a settler will always and everywhere have with him, and which will only gradually make room for the flocks and herds, the barking and bellowing, the crowing and cackling of his domestic surroundings.

Life in the prairies is life in the saddle, for the beggar here is mounted, and away from rail or tramways, neither for sex nor age is there any other practicable, or at least, endurable means of locomotion than on horseback; and the horses are fleet and sure footed, brave as lions, and gentle and docile as cows, and their purchase and keeping cost little and their stabling and shoeing nothing.

Votes that were too Light Weighted.

[From the Albany Evening Journal.]

Thank You, General Hampton. The 138 electoral votes you sent us from the "solid south" were duly received; but as things have turned out you might as well have kept them. They are light weight.

The appearance of a new volume by Prof. Swing is always an event of wide literary interest; and his latest work—Club Essays—about to be issued, will not unlikely, from its wide range and variety, prove the most popular and attractive book which this eloquent writer has yet produced.

The fashionable millinery world is turning its attention to ceramic art for buttons. Miniature plates, exquisite imitations of Wedgewood, Dresden china, and buttons with small views on them are in demand for costly dresses.

Venice is the richest city in Italy—it is almost free from debt. And with all those canals, too! The Venetian aldermen and state legislators are fearfully behind the age.—Puck.

With the important advance and the firm feeling in the wheat market abroad it would be but natural to look for something of the kind in the local market, but as yet the improvement has been very slight indeed. The reason assigned by shippers, and which is also obvious in the scarcity of tonnage available to carry off the surplus of the coast. Enough wheat is said to be stored in the warehouses at the two points, Albany and Corvallis, to load all the vessels likely to arrive here within the next four months. As the amount at these two places is only a small part of the surplus in this state and Washington Territory, the retarding influence of the scarcity of tonnage can easily be appreciated. The feeling noticed in the market in San Francisco is doubtless attributable to the excitement in New York and Chicago, where the locking up of over 3,000,000 bushels by the freeze in the canals and rivers, and a determination of the bulls to force prices up, have caused those markets to go to a figure at least five per cent. above the English prices. The receipts here are about average, and though buyers are ready to take all fair lots offering at full rates, there is no excitement in the market, and quotations remain at about the same figures given at the close of last week, with a chance that if the would-be seller finds a party who is under a necessity an advance of [illegible] per cental may be realized. There is no difficulty in filling up the vessels at hand, the amount in store here being greatly more than sufficient for this purpose. The market is quite firm at $1 47½. There is a good deal of confidence among holders, and as shippers are short of vessels, transactions are not large in the aggregate.

Flour, which has also advanced in other markets is firm here, with a moderate shipping and good local trade.

Oats are not very plentiful, and prices are firm at former quotations.

ENGLISH CROPS AND MARKETS.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The Mark Lane Express says: Storms, floods, frosts and unsettled weather over the whole United Kingdom somewhat seriously delayed wheat sowing in Essex, Sussex and some other backward districts. Threshing continues to show that the wheat crop is very deficient. Of barley there is a bulky yield, but in a very damaged condition. Oats are generally in good condition. In consequence of the ill condition of samples the inquiry for sound, marketable grain has been stronger, and damp and inferior samples sold heavily at nominal rates. Prices in provincial markets hardened in many instances to the extent of a shilling. Sellers were unable to obtain any advance for foreign wheat on spot, but cargoes off coast and in other positions improved day by day, closing strongly in favor of sellers, in consequence of the smallness of the quantity on passage and little prospect of an excessive supply. The increasing English supply of flour, with a moderate foreign supply, suffices for the consumptive demand, which continues steady. Best makes were firmly held, and therefore business was checked. Maize afloat was rather firmer at the close, but spot remained unchanged. Round corn in all positions was rather in favor of buyers, in some instances receding a sixpence. English barley is unchanged. A considerable increase in London averages plainly shows that the best samples alone are saleable. On the whole trade is sluggish and supplies are increasing. The same may be said of foreign; oats firmly held at steady but unchanged prices. The foreign supply is liberal, but Russian improved three pence and Swedish six pence.

Sales of English wheat during the week, 409,490 quarters, at 44s per quarter. Corresponding week last year the imports into the United Kingdom, ending November 13th, were 295,619 cwt of wheat, and 293,811 cwt flour.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The week opens quiet in the freight market, and there is nothing new feature to note. The L. Schepp is still at the wharf closing out, and will probably not get away before Wednesday. Rates remain about steady. Tonnage, though not scarce, is not in overabundant supply, and owners ask full prices. Negotiations are pending for a vessel to load at this port.

Isthmus freights quiet. The steamer hence Saturday, had for California 140 cases milk, 1245 cases canned goods, 87 bbls rosin, 100 tons pig iron, 958 bars railroad iron.

The sudden cold snap has caused more quietness in some departments of trade. Wheat opened excited and 2½c higher on the news of ice in the canals, by which two and a half to three million bushels of wheat are liable to be frozen in for the winter. This put the market fully five cents above European markets and stopped exports.

Barley—Stronger, but in light request at an advance. No. 1 Canada is held at $1 22; No. 2 bright, held at $1 30.

Pork—Neglected.

Lard—Excited, 20@35c higher.

Rio Coffee—Better demand; firmer.

Refined Sugar—Good demand; firm.

Hides—Quiet, prices more steady; a lot of Cala. is reported at 23½c.

Turpentine—Quiet, half cent lower.

Petroleum—Dull.

CAN'T PREACH GOOD.

No man can do a good job of work, preach a good sermon, try a law suit well, doctor a patient, or write a good article when he feels miserable and dull, with sluggish brain and unsteady nerves, and none should make the attempt in such a condition when it can be so easily and cheaply removed by a little Hop Bitters. IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL
CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit these diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them A FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.
